Rain during the week 2.56 inches, less and a quarter than of which fell on Monday night.

THE HONORABLE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.—Capt. G. W. Geisendorf informs us that at this famous establishment business is being pushed actively now. The firm is G. W. Geisendorf & Co. They have, for army contractors, the fitting out and furnishing of the army, and the work in this city by other contractors. They run their mill day and night. They employ two sets of hands, and do not stop even for meal time. The Messrs. Geisendorf & Co. are among the most patriotic as well as enterprising of our citizens.

FROM CAMP MORTON.—Dr. Kitchen, the worthy surgeon, reports to us that the health at Camp Morton is now exceedingly excellent. Fifty fine athletic young gentlemen were dispatched after the capture of Dr. Kitchen, the day before yesterday, to the east of war. The Doctor tells us that probably more will be started soon, and as a medical man, he assures that he will see that every thing is all right with them.

WAR UPON THE CONSTITUTION.—On Monday, the 8th of July, Mr. Lottor introduced into the House the following resolutions: Resolved, That in the judgment of this House it is no part of the duty of the soldiers of the United States to capture and return fugitive slaves.

Resolved, That the Judiciary Committee be instructed to inquire into the propriety of the repeal of the law called the fugitive slave law. On the vote, (they) voting them up on the table, the Indiana delegation voted as follows: Messrs. COOPER, JUDITH, MITCHELL, FORTNA, MEYER, and WATKINS for resolution, and Messrs. CHAYES, DAVIS, HOLMAN, LAW, and VOORHEES against them. Subsequently the resolution was adopted by the House.

When the army bill was under discussion in the House the telegraph reports as follows: "Mr. Vallandigham offered a proviso to the bill, that no money be appropriated for the employment of fugitive slave hunters of any of the States, and holding them as captured prisoners; or for interfering with slavery in any State. He then moved to amend the bill, so that the minds of those who thought this the purpose of the war. The amendment was rejected."

"We notice, also, that Mr. Tammert is reported to have said in the Senate that he should be unwilling that the war should cease until slavery was abolished in the seceded States. The people have been led to understand that the object of the Administration in calling out the forces was to maintain the integrity of the Government, vindicate the honor of the flag, and to enforce the Constitution and the laws. Such a view would be of the duration, and would have the general sympathy of the Northern people, and even a respectable number in the South. But if the object be to war upon the Constitution, and to strike down the rights and institutions guaranteed by that instrument alike to the loyal and disloyal people of the seceded States, it will present a new issue to the country. If it be the purpose of the Government to interfere with slavery in any State, the result must be to divide the people of the States, even those where a majority of them are for the Union, and whose institutions are all based upon the system of domestic servitude. In such a contingency who can doubt but the war will be long, bitter, sanguinary, and that it will exhaust the resources and energies of the whole country?"

THE OPERATIONS IN WESTERN VIRGINIA.—The official report of the Federal forces at the battle of Rich Mountain. The gallantry and efficiency of the Indiana regiment upon this occasion reflect the highest credit upon the State. The credit of the success in the Rich Mountain engagement is eminently due to the gallant Tenth Regiment, under command of Col. MANSON. The Confederates, in large force, under Col. GARNER, retreated from their encampment near Beverly, toward St. George. They are followed by the Brigade of Gen. MONROE. The forces under command of Gen. HILL at Rowlesburg, reinforced by the Pennsylvania regiments from Cumberland, are expected to cut off the retreat of the Rebels. The strategic skill and energetic movements of Gen. McCLELLAN display military ability of the highest order, and promise not only a vigorous, but a successful prosecution of the war in the department entrusted to him. No general has ever had a finer army under his command, and with a few months discipline it would be unsurpassed. It may look equal to stirring and to the opposing forces of McCLELLAN and GARNER.

OUR ARMY CORRESPONDENCE.—An Engagement by the 10th Regiment. BIRMINGHAM, VIRGINIA, July 13.—We received intelligence from our different sources that there were 100 rebels encamped at this place, committing depredations upon the Union men in this section of country. We, upon the receipt of this intelligence, struck out and took the line of march for this place, a distance of fifteen miles, with our gallant Colonel at the head of the column. The men were eager to meet the rebels, and accomplished the march in three hours, over a mountainous road. On our arrival here we were mortified to find that the rebels had gone to the mountains a short time in advance of us. On the 3rd of July, General HIGGINS, of the 10th Regiment, sent a scout to the mountain leading south from this place and toward Huttonville. At the head of 50 brave Indiana boys they went their way rejoicing. Learning that the rebels were in the mountains in arms at Jacksonville, notwithstanding the earnest entreaties of Union men who met them on the way, to retreat, as the rebels are superior in force, they decided to take the line of march forward. They reached the rebel camp at about 9 o'clock A. M., and fired upon them, wounding two at the scene. The rebels fled to the mountains. There are men now who will fight under almost any commander, or with none, rather than be taken at the scene. The rebels were taken in the expedition, with a fine horse and ten stand of arms. They have come to the sensible conclusion that the Indiana boys of the 10th Regiment were not to be fooled, if they are in the hills of Western Virginia.

Very respectfully,
JOHN M. DOWD.

Sergeant Major 10th Regiment.

THE GROWTH OF THE UNITED STATES has been about 30 per cent. per annum, while the increase of the Mexican Mustang Industry has been from 20 to 30 per cent. during the estimation and increasing popularity of this invaluable article. It has, no doubt, saved the country a half million a year in horses and cattle, and while for human ailments, such as bruises, stiff joints, rheumatism, pains, cuts, burns, bites, cancer, etc., it has no equal. Did you ever see it tried upon a sore throat, or a sore eye, or a sore ear? It should always be kept in every house and stable. Accidents will occur. Promptness is efficacy. But be particular and buy of none but respectable dealers. See that every bottle bears the signature of D. S. BARNES, Proprietor, and G. W. WATKINS, Chemist, and the precautionary words "Trade-Mark," in two Medallions of the Federal Currency. Sold at 25 cents, 50 cents and $1 per bottle, by all respectable dealers throughout the whole globe. D. S. BARNES & CO., New York.

DEAR DR. WATKINS.—Dear Sir: I have used your Blood Purifier for a nervous affection, and it has done me more good than any other medicine I have ever used. It has done me more good than any other medicine I have ever used. It has done me more good than any other medicine I have ever used.

Yours, J. W. T. McMillan.
